

Introduction

Milefield Primary School is proudly recognised as an Inclusive Attendance school. Our unwavering commitment to attendance centres around child-centric actions, evidence-informed practices, and a shared understanding of everyone's roles and collective responsibilities to promote exceptional attendance.

Inclusive Attendance Professional Development Model

The Inclusive Attendance professional development model fundamentally guides our attendance approach. Comprising six tailored Learning Modules, this model empowers us to deepen our understanding by facilitating continuous professional learning for all staff. Within this model, the four domains of practice ensure the provision of professional learning, professional development, evidence-based practices, and exemplary leadership and management to seamlessly integrate theory into practice.

Annual Inclusive Attendance 7-Month Development Programme

Each year, Milefield review and further enhances attendance practices through dedicated participation in the Inclusive Attendance 7-month development programme. This investment allows us to remain at the forefront of educational change and extends unparalleled support to our children and their families, equipping them with access to the finest possible assistance.

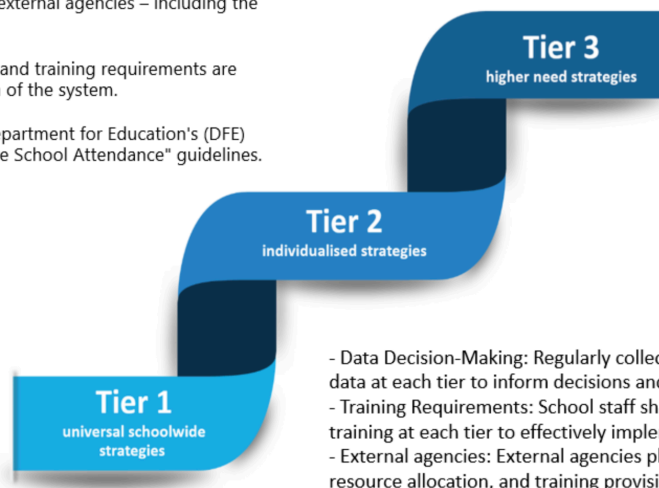

To guarantee a comprehensive approach to attendance, Milefield Primary School implement a Multi-Tiered System of Support. A Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) for school attendance involves three tiers of intervention, with roles for teachers, the school, children, parents, and external agencies – including the Local Authority. Data-driven decision-making and training requirements are pivotal to the implementation of this system. The system aligns with the Department for Education's (DFE) "Working Together to Improve School Attendance" statutory paper 2024.

A Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) for school attendance involves three tiers of intervention, with roles for teachers, the school, children, parents and external agencies – including the Local Authority.

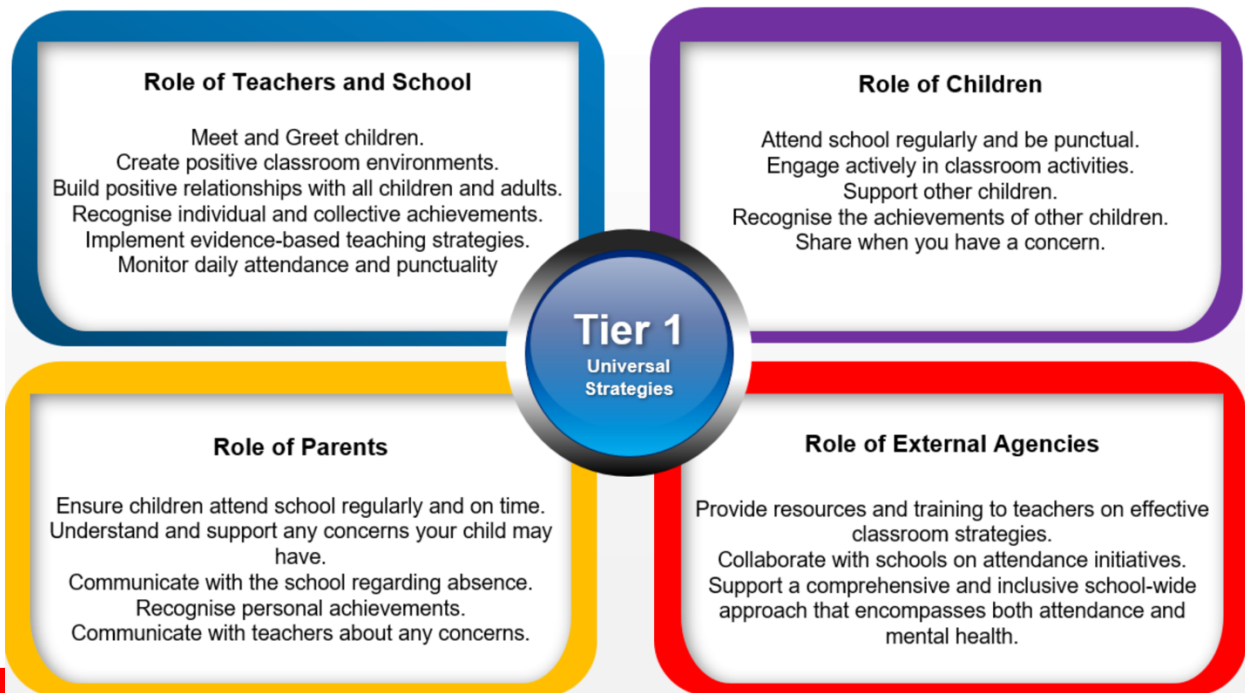

Data-driven decision-making and training requirements are pivotal to the implementation of the system.

The system aligns with the Department for Education's (DFE) "Working Together to Improve School Attendance" guidelines.

- Data Decision-Making: Regularly collect, analyse, and use attendance data at each tier to inform decisions and interventions.
- Training Requirements: School staff should receive appropriate training at each tier to effectively implement attendance strategies.
- External agencies: External agencies play a crucial role in data analysis, resource allocation, and training provision to support schools in improving attendance.
- Children and Parents: Effective communication and co-creation of any intervention support is pivotal to the success of the MTSS approach.

Tier 1 - Universal Approach: Establishing a baseline universal attendance approach that benefits all children.

MILEFIELD School

Following the Stage 2 audit of attendance practice, and successful completion of the Bronze KITE Mark, the following summary report highlights key strengths and next steps for consideration to enhance your inclusive attendance approach. These actions aim to progress attendance practices within the school:

1. EQUALITY AND INCLUSION Vision, Values, Ethos, Social Context, and Empowerment:

School Ethos and Culture: The School's ethos is rooted in a child-centred, supportive, and collaborative approach to all aspects of school life. This commitment to nurturing positive, respectful, and caring relationships was evident throughout the day, both among staff and students. During pupil voice sessions, children spoke positively about the strong relationships they have with their teachers and peers, expressing their love for learning and the engaging curriculum. There has clearly been a change in culture and understanding of attendance since the last stage audit.

Staff speak with greater understanding and confidence regarding the pedagogical approach of attendance and can refer to accessing the training to influence their roles and responsibilities, it is felt accessing the online modules will provide even deeper understanding of the pedagogy of practice. There is now a clear vision for attendance and all staff could articulate their roles and responsibilities in ensuring that the culture of attendance practice drives outcomes.

Observations and Findings: Throughout the day, children consistently demonstrated courteous behaviour, such as holding doors open for each other and staff – greeting at the school gate! Positive interactions between CYP and staff were also noted at the start of the school day, with a clear staff presence welcoming children. This ensured a smooth transition for children into their classrooms and learning activities – the new lining up system works!

The late system is solid, there are no longer any checks on the system and the Attendance Manager has found this additional time useful in the morning – again building a collective responsibility regarding processes and systems. Lates have significantly dropped and children are supported to transition into school – using the inventory system will save time and allow the member of staff to support / challenge any late child, removing OTHER or having a valid reason has been of benefit.

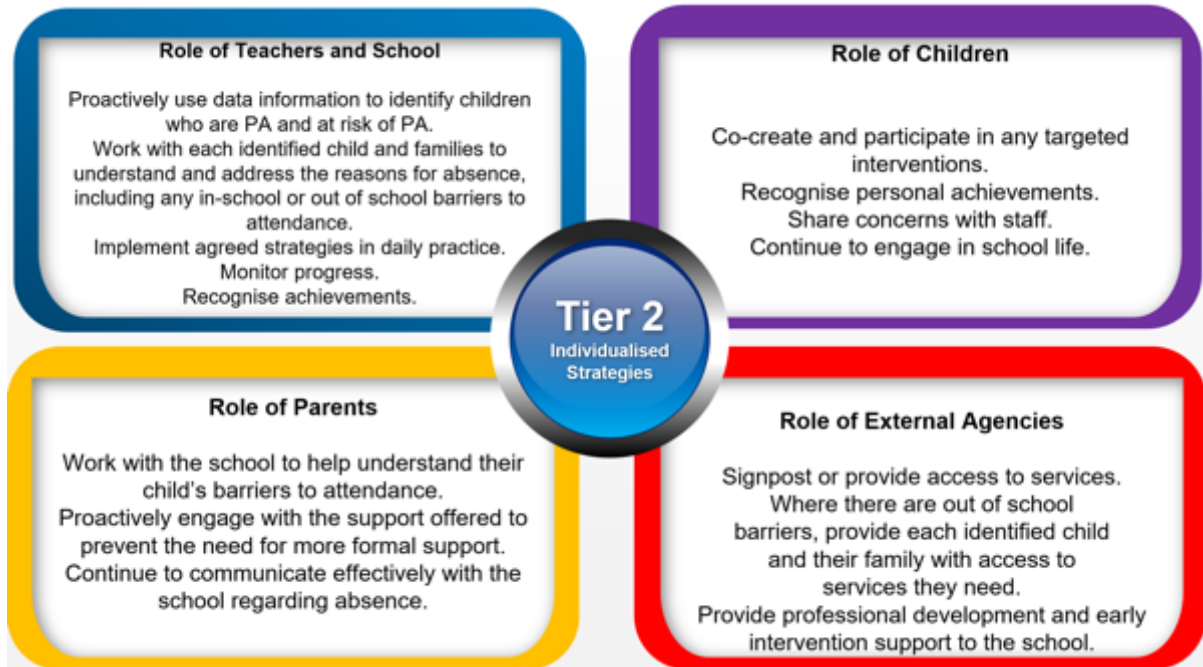

Attendance Strategy and Recommendations: The Head Teacher and Attendance Champion are focused on further sustaining the Inclusive Attendance approach, the improved strategy for attendance is working and has created a great culture of collective responsibility.

Staff have clearly benefitted from accessing some training, as mentioned the level 1 and 2 programme will deepen understanding and save having to repeat training to new staff. Further efforts are required to ensure that the school's approach is now sustained working towards the Silver KITE Mark! The new website page for attendance does not yet reflect the school's approach and commitment to inclusive practice!

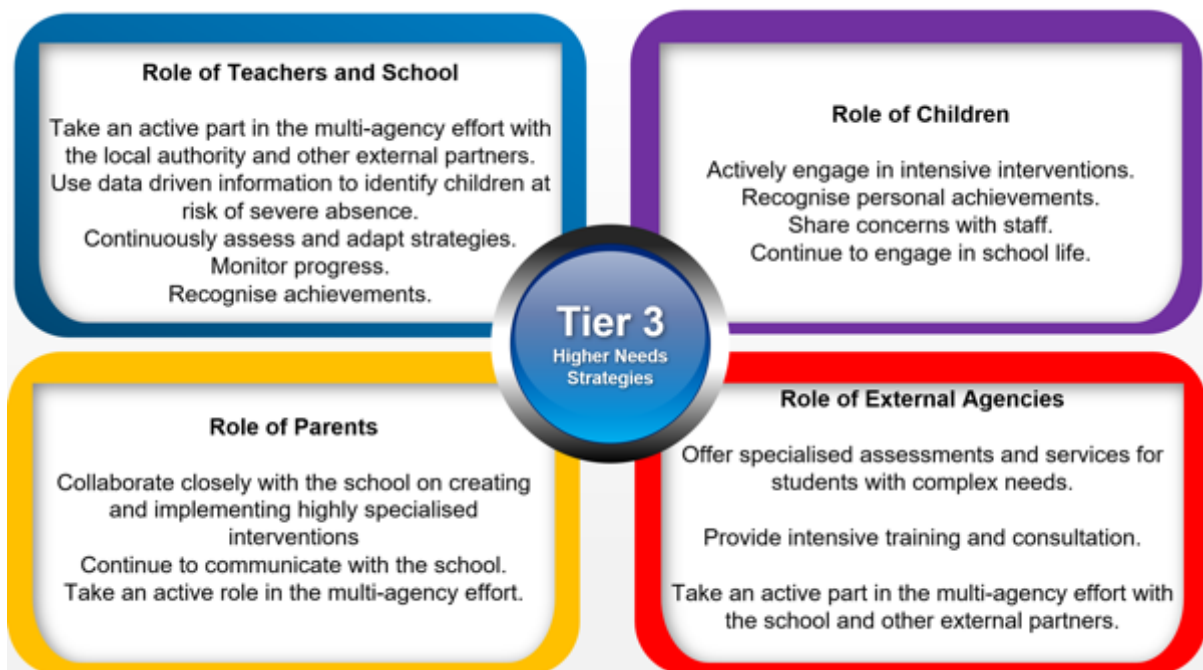

Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS): Further embedding the Multi-Tiered System of Support (MTSS) into daily practice and making clear links to each Tier would enhance understanding this year for school Governors in particular. This approach now provides a clear roadmap for attendance, clarifying the collective roles and responsibilities of other stakeholders.

Tier 2 – Internal individualised Strategies and Early Help Support: Tailoring strategies to individual needs and providing early help support for persistent attendance challenges.

Tier 3 - Higher Needs Strategies Support: Furnishing specialised support for children, young people, and families with complex attendance requirements, including access to external agency support when necessary.

Milefield Primary School Recognition-Based Approach

Our attendance philosophy is rooted in a recognition-based approach that recognises both personal and collective achievements. This approach serves to thwart isolation, prevent victimisation, cultivate positive environments, nurture relationships, foster inclusivity, and ultimately cultivate intrinsic motivation among our children, families, and staff.

The Importance of School Attendance at Milefield Primary School

School attendance is not merely a requirement but a fundamental pillar of education. It plays a pivotal role in shaping academic success, personal growth, and future prospects, making it an indispensable aspect of any educational system. Regular attendance to school can have a significant impact on:

- Academic Achievement: Regular attendance directly correlates with academic success. Children who attend school consistently are more likely to keep up with the curriculum, perform better in exams, and improve their life outcomes.
- Knowledge Acquisition: School is where children acquire knowledge and skills that are crucial for their personal and professional growth. Missing days means missing out on valuable learning opportunities.
- Social Development: School provides a vital social environment for children and adolescents to interact with peers, develop friendships, and learn essential social skills. Consistent attendance ensures children remain connected to their peer group.
- Building Routine: School attendance establishes a structured routine in children's lives, teaching them time management and responsibility, which are valuable life skills.
- Teacher Interaction: Regular attendance allows for meaningful teacher-child interactions. Teachers can provide personalised support, address questions, and assess individual progress more effectively when children attend regularly.
- Preventing Knowledge Gaps: Frequent absences can lead to significant knowledge gaps, making it challenging for children to catch up with missed lessons, potentially resulting in long-term academic struggles.
- School Engagement: Children who attend school regularly are more likely to engage in extracurricular activities, sports, and other enriching experiences that contribute to their overall development.
- Legal and Parental Responsibility: Parents or guardians are legally responsible for ensuring their child's regular school attendance. Failing to do so can lead to legal consequences.
- Community Well-being: High levels of school attendance contribute to the overall well-being of communities.

Factors Influencing Attendance

There are many factors which can impact on a child attending school, if you have any concerns you should contact the school as soon as possible:

Health Issues: Children may experience physical or mental health issues that lead to absences. Chronic illnesses, infections, and mental health conditions can impact a student's ability to attend school regularly.

Family Circumstances: Family-related factors such as bereavement, family illness, or caring responsibilities can result in absences from school. In some cases, students may need to take time off to support their families.

Bullying and Safety Concerns: Experiences of bullying, harassment, or safety concerns at school can deter students from attending. They may fear for their safety or well-being, leading to increased absenteeism.

Transportation Issues: Difficulty in accessing transportation to school, especially in rural areas, can affect attendance. Lack of reliable transportation options can lead to sporadic attendance.

Socioeconomic Factors: Families facing financial difficulties may struggle to provide necessary resources for their children to attend school regularly. Issues such as lack of appropriate clothing, food, or a stable home environment can contribute to absenteeism.

Special Educational Needs (SEN): Students with special educational needs may require additional support and accommodations to attend school regularly.

Engagement and Motivation: Lack of engagement with school activities and a perceived lack of relevance in the curriculum can lead to disinterest in attending. Children who are not motivated may avoid attending school.

Academic Challenges: Students facing academic difficulties or feeling overwhelmed by work may avoid school. They may fear falling behind or failing in their studies.

Cultural and Language Barriers: Children from diverse backgrounds may face challenges related to language barriers or cultural differences. These challenges can affect their attendance and engagement with school.

Peer Pressure and Social Factors: Influence from peers can impact attendance. Children may avoid attending school to align with the behaviour of their peers or to engage in social activities outside of school.

Parental Involvement: Parental support and involvement in a child's education can positively influence attendance. Lack of parental engagement may lead to increased absenteeism.

SEND Factors: As a school, we understand how a variety of special educational needs can impact on attendance and attitudes towards to school. Our main area of needs are:

Social Emotional & Mental Health (SEMH): We provide a range of support for pupils with these needs including many of the elements within tier one which all staff do daily. We have a dedicated pastoral team in school and buy into an external counsellor for targeted pupils.

Speech, Language & Communication Needs (SLCN): We have trained professionals who work with children from Nursery to Y6 on speech and language therapy, which includes NELI (Nuffield Early Language Intervention).

Cognition & Learning Needs (Moderate and Specific Learning Difficulties): All pupils receive a high-quality education in all year groups. Staff provide engaging lessons with a range of adaptations designed specifically for individual pupil needs.

Sensory/Physical Needs: All pupils receive a high level of pastoral support across school not only from their class staff but the dedicated pastoral team and SEND team. Pupil needs are quickly identified and reasonable adjustments are made to ensure these pupils can access learning.

All pupils on the SEND register have a bespoke Send Support Plan (SSP) which is reviewed regularly and discussed with pupils (where appropriate) and parents. These are then a working document which are utilised to ensure the best possible support for these pupils which ultimately lead to positive progress. All external agency support is directed by the school SEND team in consultation with parents and pupils to ensure support is swiftly utilised and directed in the right direction.

Strategies for Using Data to Target Attendance Improvement Efforts at Milefield

As a school, we collect and collate data daily/weekly to ensure gaps and trends can be identified and support offered where appropriate in these areas:

- The whole school cohort and Individual year groups.

- Individual pupils.
- Demographic groups, e.g., pupils from different ethnic groups or economic backgrounds.
- Other groups of pupils, e.g., pupils with SEND, LAC, and pupils eligible for FSM.
- Pupils who have an allocated social worker or are known to social care.
- A pupil who is absent for prolonged periods, or repeated occasions, which may indicate a safeguarding concern, such as CSE or CRE, particularly county lines.
- Pupils at risk of PA.
- Pupils at risk of SA.

Strategy for Reducing Persistent and Severe Absence at Milefield

Regular contact will be maintained by school with parents of pupils falling into this category. Support will be offered from school in the first instance, then, where appropriate, Education Welfare Service may be used to support families. A range of elements may support families with educational absence such as:

Early help Assessments (EHA)
SEND support from SENCO
EWS support
Pastoral Support in school
Counselling support in school

All pupils falling or at risk of falling into persistent (PA) or severely absent (SA) categories will be contacted regularly and support offered at all levels.

An attendance home-school agreement is a formal agreement between parents and the school or local authority to address irregular attendance, providing support as an alternative to prosecution. It is not legally binding but serves as a formal route to secure engagement with support when voluntary early help plans have not worked. An attendance agreement aims to offer support rather than punishment. Milefield send this home at the start of each school year and it is up to parent/carer to sign and send back in.

Removal from roll

This refers to the process of a child's name being officially taken off the school's register, typically due to extended non-attendance or other circumstances. Elective Home Education (EHE) is an option that some parents choose after removal from roll, where they take responsibility for providing education to their child at home.

Definitions

In the context of school attendance and education in the UK, the terms "Persistent Absence," "Risk of Persistent Absence," and "Severe Absence" are used to describe different levels of irregular attendance by students. These terms are important for tracking and addressing attendance issues.

Persistent Absence (PA):

Definition: Persistent Absence is a term used to describe a level of student absence from school that is considered to be a significant cause for concern.

Threshold: In England, a student is considered to be persistently absent when they have an attendance rate of 90% or below. This means they have missed 10% or more of their school sessions.

Risk of Persistent Absence:

Definition: The term "Risk of Persistent Absence" refers to a situation in which a student's attendance is at a level that suggests they are at risk of becoming persistently absent.

Threshold: While there is no specific threshold for "Risk of Persistent Absence," it is typically used to describe students whose attendance is consistently low and becoming a concern, as the school communicates to parents in days, we identify 10 days or more as Risk of PA and we will follow internal school procedures.

Severe Absence (or Severe Persistent Absence):

Definition: The term "Severe Absence" or "Severe Persistent Absence" is used to describe the most serious cases of non-attendance.

Threshold: Particular focus and support will be provided to pupils who are absent from school more than they are present (those missing 50% or more of school). These severely absent pupils may find it more difficult to be in school or face bigger barriers to their regular attendance and as such are likely to need more intensive support across a range of external agency partners.

Absence Definitions

- Arrival at school after the register has closed.
- Not attending school for any reason.

Authorised Absence

- An absence for sickness for which the school has granted leave.
- Medical or dental appointments which unavoidably fall during school time, for which the school has granted leave.
- Religious or cultural observances for which the school has granted leave
- An absence due to a family emergency

Unauthorised Absence

- Parents keeping children off school unnecessarily or without reason.
- Truancy before or during the school day.
- Absences which have never been properly explained.

- Absence due to day trips and holidays in term-time which have not been agreed.
- Leaving school for no reason during the day.

Policies and Practice

This attendance policy operates within the framework of statutory attendance regulations outlined in the Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006 and subsequent amendments. Milefield Primary School adhere to the following key attendance acts in the UK:

Education Act 1996: The Education Act 1996 is the primary piece of legislation that sets out the legal framework for school attendance in England and Wales. It outlines the responsibilities of parents, carers, and schools in ensuring regular school attendance. Sections 444-447 of the Act deal with offenses related to non-attendance and penalties for parents and carers.

Education (Pupil Registration) Regulations 2006: These regulations specify the procedures for registering pupils and maintaining attendance records in schools in England. They also define the circumstances in which a pupil can be marked as absent or present.

Education (Pupil Registration) (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2013: These regulations amended the 2006 regulations and introduced stricter rules on authorizing term-time holidays. Under these regulations, headteachers are only allowed to grant leave of absence in exceptional circumstances.

School Attendance Code of Practice: The School Attendance Code of Practice provides guidance to schools, local authorities, and parents on the law and procedures relating to school attendance and absence. It sets out the principles for promoting good attendance and dealing with poor attendance.

Local Authority School Attendance Guidance: Each local authority in the UK may provide its own guidance and policies on school attendance. Schools should be aware of and follow the specific guidance issued by their local authority.

Department for Education (DFE) Guidance: The DFE periodically issues guidance documents and updates related to school attendance. Schools should stay informed about the latest DFE guidance 2024 and follow any recommendations or requirements outlined in these documents.

Child Employment Legislation: Legislation such as the Children and Young Persons Act 1933 and the Children (Performances) Regulations 1968 govern the employment and attendance of children involved in performances, modelling, and other activities outside of regular school hours.

Children Missing Education (CME) Statutory Guidance: This guidance outlines the responsibilities of local authorities in identifying and tracking children who may be missing education, including those who are not on a school roll or are not receiving suitable education.

Section 19 of the Education Act 1996 (England and Wales) outlines the duty of local authorities in ensuring that suitable education is provided for children of compulsory school age.
